

The 2020 John Locke Conference Naples, Italy -June 10-12, 2020

Keynote Speakers:

Mark Goldie (Cambridge)

Paschalis M. Kitromilides (Athens)

Maria Montserrat Herrero Lopez (Navarra)

Call for Papers

The aim of the third official International Conference of the John Locke Society is to encourage studies and researches on any topic of John Locke's philosophy, fostering interaction among scholars from different disciplines. Papers concerning any aspect pertaining to Locke's thought are welcomed. A section of the JLC will be devoted to Locke in the Mediterranean area between the XVIII and XIX Century.

The International Conference of the John Locke Society will be held in Naples from 10 to 12 June 2020.

Abstracts (maximum 750 words) should be sent no later than 31 December 2019 to johnlockeconference2020@gmail.com. Final papers should be no longer than 5000 words. The final programme will be published by March 2020. Further information regarding the conference, accommodation options and other practical matters will be available at that time.

Inquiries: johnlockeconference2020@gmail.com

Conveners:

Roberto Evangelista – ISPF, CNR

Luisa Simonutti – ISPF, CNR

Info: <http://www.ispf.cnr.it>